Goals

- New methodology for parallel software and data engineering of web-scale information systems.
- Linked Data the unifying foundation for system specification, process and tool integration.
- Extend model-driven software engineering techniques to encapsulate shared models of aligned co-evolving software and data lifecycles.
- The data lifecycle will support automated testing, runtime data quality analytics, model-generated [data] extraction and human curation interfaces.

The bad news - Workplan

- ALIGNED proposal promised a schedule of 67 deliverables
  - 36 Distinct Deliverables
  - 30 Further Deliverable Iterations
  - 1 Pseudo-Deliverable (QA Review)
- We are contractually bound to produce these deliverables for EC
- 1.81 official deliverables per month is significant overhead!

Summary

- TCD manage ALIGNED project
  - 30-55% of ALIGNED resources /activities are for Seshat
- ALIGNED is funding
  - TCD Dacura system development in 3 releases:
    - 2015: RDF pilot, RA-based data collection, Data quality controls, Schema (codebook) management
    - 2016: Live RDF system, domain expert interfaces, DBpedia harvesting, system administration/productivity management
    - 2017: Depends on progress
  - Seshat Data collection at Oxford/Poznan
  - Oxford Computer Scientists who will (hopefully) help with tools for (1) developing Dacura faster (2) data management
  - Open data publication

- Thanks!
