

Essential circuit for delay eyeblink conditioning

Figure 1 The basic circuit for contextual fear conditioning organized according to various types of conditional stimuli at the top and conditional fear responses at the bottom. LA refers to the lateral nucleus of the amygdala and BLA refers to the basolateral nucleus of the amygdala. The BLA and the LA are parts of the frontotemporal amygdala and comprise the neuroanatomical hub for learned fear.